Patron Capital shortlisted for three awards at the Business Culture Awards 2021

Patron Capital, the pan-European institutional investor focused on property-backed investments, has been shortlisted for Best Corporate Social Responsibility Initiative, Best Small Organisation for Business Culture and Keith Breslauer, Managing Director of Patron Capital, has been shortlisted for the Business Culture Leadership Award.

These awards celebrate forward-thinking organisations that recognise the impact of company culture on business performance. The shortlisting for Best Small Organisation for Business Culture is in recognition of Patron Capital's ongoing charity work, which informs all business decisions and helps to drive engagement throughout the company.

The award for Best Corporate Social Responsibility Initiative honours companies that have put CSR at the heart of their business culture and delivered outstanding results. Patron Capital is committed to doing social good with every action, culminating in the launch of the Women in Safe Homes fund in December 2020.

The Business Culture Leadership Award shines a light on professionals who have created an exceptional business culture. Keith Breslauer makes the entirety of Patron's resources available for charitable good, offering up everything from office and event space to business contacts, staff, and financial support. His approach to leadership encourages others to follow suit, ensuring that Patron continues to make a positive social impact.

The awards dinner will take place on Tuesday 5 October at the DeVere Grand Connaught Rooms, London.

Keith Breslauer, Managing Director of Patron Capital, said:

"Patron Capital has been shortlisted for three awards at the Business Culture Awards – a real success for the team. At Patron, we are guided by a central ethos: to do social good with every action. Our commitment to corporate social responsibility and making a positive impact on society is intrinsic to the everyday activities of the firm and forms the bedrock of our business culture. I look forward to finding out the winners at the upcoming award ceremony and would like to congratulate all the other finalists."
